PRODUCT BULLETIN

DESCRIPTION OF ISSUE

Tecumseh has identified an issue with the printing of the AG reciprocating R22 service replacement compressor model number only on both the serial label and the carton label on the outside of the single pack. The item number is correct in all cases and there is no issue with the compressor itself. All other markings (voltage, refrigerant, etc) are correct. The differences in the model nomenclature printing of the labels may prompt questions from the field, which are being addressed with this bulletin cross reference below.

BACKGROUND

Beginning in 2021, as a part of Tecumseh's Portfolio Optimization, AG compressors are now manufactured at our Tecumseh plant in Europe. Previously, the compressors were final assembled, including labeling at our plant in Mississippi. A data error, which has been corrected, resulted in a different model number being printed on the affected labels (serial and carton). Incorrect label example shown to the right.

IMPACT OF CHANGES / QUESTIONS

No issues with the compressor itself, it is correct, only the "model" nomenclature shows different than indicated on the price list. All other markings (voltage, refrigerant, etc) are correct as shown. Any questions, contact your Tecumseh Regional Sales Manager or Technical Support (technical.support@tecumseh.com).
