PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Tecumseh Europe launches TParts, our online customer tool. TParts allows customers to easily select spare parts by entering the serial number of our products.

TParts allows installers, distributors, OEMs, engineering offices and even schools to easily and quickly identify Tecumseh spare parts in just a few clicks from the serial number of the finished product.

TParts is:

-a web interface accessible on all screens: smartphones, tablets, computers

-a simple, clear and quick tool to identify the spare parts of a product grouped by function: refrigeration, ventilation, electrical, housing, control and hydraulic.

-More than 30 million Tecumseh Europe compressors and condensing units serial numbers available, representing all finished products launched on the market since 2000.

"The spare part is an integral part of the product's life and the TParts, so eagerly awaited by our customers, will enable them to find the right and unique component. TParts is the first interface in a series of digital tools that TecTools will offer. We are very enthusiastic about the idea of reinforcing our product offering with a service offering that matches our ambitions", says Stéphane Charbonnier, Sales Director of Tecumseh Europe.

TParts is available now, in all European countries and in nearly 10 languages.
